I David Knowles, Auditor of the town of Madison for the year ending March 1. 1886, hereby certify that I have carefully examined the foregoing accounts and find them correctly cast and properly vouched for all expenditures.

DAVID KNOWLES, Auditor.

We have caused the Town House to be insured in the Springfield Fire and Marine Insurance Company for the term of five years from the sixteenth day of March A. D. 1885, and have cancelled the Lawrence Execution, and renewed all the outstanding notes against the town, agreeably to the express directions of the town at the last annual meeting.

We have also procured from Wm. Kennett and wife a warranty deed to the town of the entire town house lot as now fenced and occupied with careful description of boundaries, and had the same duly recorded in the Carroll Registry. The town treasurer has been required to preserve and file all the town orders issued by us during the past financial year.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The following report upon the educational interests of the town for the school year ending March 1. 1886, is respectfully submitted. Reported by districts :

District No. 1 :—Summer term taught by Miss. Millie R. Pearson. Miss Pearson is one of our best teachers, and is deserving of praise. The scholars showed good improvement and the term was one of much value to the scholars.

Winter term, taught by Mr. Henry A. Snow. Mr. Snow has a faculty for keeping up an interest in his school. Although the order was not what we would desire in a school room, the scholars made marked improvement, especially in mathematics and reading.

ROLLS OF HONOR.

Names of pupils who were neither absent nor tardy during the terms :

District No. 1, First term :—Nora B. Allard, Lilian S. Frost, Sadie E. Kennett, Mabel C. Nickerson, Carrie F. Hatch, Fannie B. Hatch, Theodore Pearson, Freddie E. Allard.

Second term :—Willie C. Kennett, Ernest Kennett, Isaiah Forrest, Herbert Chase, Fred M. Drew, George A. Gerry, Theodore C. Pearson, Florence Alley, Lilian S. Frost, Eva M. Hatch, Carrie F. Hatch, Fannie B. Hatch.

District No. 7 :—Bell Littlefield, Bertie Littlefield.

District No. 8 :—Roll of Honor not kept.

District No. 9 :—School now in session.

District No. 2 :—Charlie Long, Albert Harmon, Mabel Nickerson.

Districts No. 3 and 4 the Roll of Honor was not kept.

District No. 5 :—First term Freddie E. Warren, Mabel Flanders.

Second term, Freddie E. Warren, Mabel Flanders.

District No. 6 :—First term, Eliza M. Downs, Cora Merrow, Chester H. Churchill, Perley Downs, Jesse Lowd.

Second term, John Bickford, Herbert C. Churchill, George W. Lowd.

District No. 2:—One term taught by W. E. Andrews. Mr. Andrews has taught in this town before with good success. I found the school under good discipline, and the scholars making good improvement. For some reason the interest was not kept up and but few scholars attended the last of the term.

District No. 3:—One term taught by Miss Nora B. Allard. This was Miss Allard's first attempt at teaching. I was pleased with the order, and good feeling among scholars and teacher. I think, in time, Miss Allard will stand at the front as a teacher. Her scholars made good improvement.

District No. 4:—One term. This school was taught by Clarke Varney. It was his first attempt, and I am sorry to say he was not successful. Having no interest in the school himself, it caused the scholars to lose what interest they had. The improvement was small.

District No. 5.—Both terms were taught by Miss Sadie Nickerson. Miss Nickerson is a fine scholar and has a very pleasant way in the school room. Although the order was deficient, the scholars made good improvement, and those who wanted to learn had a chance to do so.

District No. 6:—Summer term was taught by Lizzie L. Libbey. She has taught this school several terms before, and has given the best of satisfaction. I was pleased with the examination of her school and consider her one of our best teachers.

Winter term was taught by Miss Bell Smith. Miss Smith is not an old teacher but did a good work in the school room. The order was very good, and the promptness with which the scholars answered at the examination, showed a thoroughness that was very pleasing.

District No. 7:—Both terms were taught by Miss Martha Lewis. The school was small but managed in a way to keep up a good interest to the close of the second term. The improvement was very good.

District No. 8:—One term taught by Miss Lizzie L. Libbey. Miss Libbey was diligent and faithful as usual. The result was the few who attended were benefited.

District No. 9:—One term taught by Miss Emma M. Forrest. Miss Forrest is an experienced teacher. She always gets the good will of the scholar and takes an interest alike in large and small scholars. In this way she keeps up a lively interest in her schools. I consider her as standing at the front as a teacher.

Another year has passed by and as I sum up the amount of work done, I can but feel gratified at the result. I can honestly say that the teacher and scholars alike have shown a good degree of interest with a very few exceptions. Most of the teachers have been faithful ; trying hard for their scholars, and in that way receiving credit for themselves and their scholars too. I am gratified that my town furnishes so many good lady teachers, and knowing, as I do, that our young men have talent as well, I would advise them to try one of the noblest arts, that of imparting knowledge to others. Our schools call for earnest, faithful workers, and there should be more interest manifested by the parents.

Fathers, Mothers, leave your work for an afternoon and visit the school room and see for yourselves how your children are progressing at school. Talk with the teachers and show them that you are interested in the welfare and progress of your schools. This lightens the burdens of the teachers and encourages them to put forth their most earnest endeavors. In this way our schools may be raised to a higher standard. Our motto should be "onward and upward," and everyone showing an interest in all school matters. In conclusion I ask you to awaken to new interest in our schools and all may be benefitted thereby.

D. KNOWLES, School Committee.
